About our music sessions:

We're really pleased to have some fiddlers join us sessions. Having the chance to play with other musicians is a big part of what makes sessions so much fun. It is also important for everyone to get a chance to participate, and so have we have the habit of letting each musician in the session circle call a tune to start things off. Generally, we'll do that for about the first half of the session (around 90 minutes) and then the second half will be for a bit more advanced players, playing generally faster and/or more difficult tunes.
